Definition of Series

This consolidated series specification describes four classes in which employees learn and perform a variety of general office work. General office duties include: typing, dictation and transcription; mail and document handling; filing and records management; document preparation and review; composition of correspondence; oral communications; statistical and other record keeping; cashiering; and ordering and maintaining supplies and equipment. Employees in this series may be regularly required to have particular knowledge and/or proficiency in such special areas as typing, cashiering, and information services. Classes which do not conform to the "Definition of Levels" section or have other salary structures are excluded from this consolidated series specification.

Each special area of general office work incorporated into this specification will utilize only the class(es) that appropriately describes the type and level of work performed and the duties and responsibilities assigned to positions which are comparable to the appropriate level(s) described in this consolidated series specification. Not every special area of general office work will utilize all the levels contained in this consolidated series specification.

Office Assistant (General), Office Assistant (Typing), Office Technician (General) and Office Technician (Typing) may instruct, lead or supervise inmates, wards or resident workers.

Factors Affecting Position Allocation

Relative level of variety and complexity of duties, initiative and independence of action, degree of supervision received and exercised, public contact, consequence of error, and knowledge and abilities are factors used in differentiating between levels.

Definition of Levels

Office Assistant (Various Classes)

This is the entry, trainee and journey level for this series. Under close supervision as a trainee, incumbents regularly perform a limited range of duties that become routine, shortly after the initial training period; and/or learns to perform a variety of full journey level general clerical duties.

Under general supervision, incumbents at the full journey level regularly perform a variety of duties requiring adaptation to various situations, judgment as to which learned work method to apply for the desired result, and the ability to communicate effectively. This level may have lead responsibility over less experienced employees in areas such as training and answering questions on work procedures.

Office Technician (Various Classes)

This is the advanced journey level which regularly performs a variety of the most difficult duties and is expected to consistently exercise a high degree of initiative, independence and originality in performing assigned tasks. Positions at this level regularly require detailed and sensitive public contact and/or independent origination of correspondence involving the knowledge and application of detailed regulations, policies and procedures (e.g., positions such as secretaries to major division chiefs and one-person field office assignments comprised of a wide variety of responsibilities). Good judgment and the ability to communicate effectively is of primary importance at this level. Typically, the work at this level is rarely reviewed. In addition, positions may have responsibility for functional guidance in training and assisting less experienced employees.

Scope of Office Assistant/Technician (Various Classes)

Office Assistant/Technician (General)

Positions allocated to this area are distinguished from other clerical classes by being required to perform any combination of the general office duties listed in the "Definition of Series" but should not require a specific degree of proficiency in an area such as typing.

Office Assistant/Technician (Typing)

Positions allocated to this special area are distinguished from other clerical classes by being regularly required to perform typing duties as an essential part of the job which may include any combination of the general office duties listed in the "Definition of Series". Typically, typing encompasses a significant proportion of the work time.
